Then the House took into Consideration the Bill for quieting the Possessions of Indians and finding the Alterations ^{p. 99} to be made therein were such as could not without Confusion be interlined in the Bill, Resolved that the Bill with the Amendments be written over fair; and a message prepared to be sent therewith w^{ch} Message follows viz.

By the Upper House of Assembly October the 16th 1723.

Gentlemen.

Upon Reading and Considering the Bill herewith sent, the Alterations proposed to be made by us therein, we found were such as could not without Confusion be interlined in the Bill; wherefore we Judg'd it wo^d be more convenient to write the whole Bill over with the Amendments, then to propose them to be interlined; with which if your House concurs the same will pass.
