[p. 231] In consequence of a letter received from the Secretary of State, the following Proclamation issued:

By his Excellency Thomas Sim Lee Esquire Governor of Maryland

A Proclamation

Whereas a Proclamation has been issued by the President of the United States, setting forth that it is the duty and interest, and declaring it to be the disposition of the United States to observe a friendly and impartial conduct towards the several European powers now at War and further exhorting and warning the Citizens of the said United States to avoid all acts and proceedings tending to contravene such disposition. And Whereas the Secretary of State in communicating a copy of the aforesaid proclamation has intimated the expectation and reliance of the President of the United States that injunctions so interesting to the happiness and prosperity of the Country will have the aid of the Executive power towards their general and strict observance by the Citizens of this State: I have therefore with the advice and consent of the Council thought fit to issue this my proclamation, earnestly exhorting the good people of this State to observe the peaceable and impartial conduct recommended
