

1 which is more sensitive to political abuse, that this
2 educational system has also been recognized without freezing
3 it in absolute terms; the principle at issue is a guarantee
4 of local boards of education composed of nonprofessional
5 members. This is not a protection of the establishment.
6 Those are nonprofessional members. Professionals cannot 7 serve on them or do not serve on them. We suggest it is 8 important to assure that the people have the right to be 9 represented on these boards, that is a board that is 10 checked by another organ of the government from overzealous
11 action, that this balance between those who are not profes-
12 sional educators and those who are not the officials
13 responsible for running the entire county should be placed 14 in between to valiantly assess the need without fear of 15 reprisal and yet to be required to go to the elected 16 officials of the entire county and raise the money for the 17 entire county and thereby get their needs recognized in 18 proportion to other needs of the county. The boards were 19 first established by Local Referendum No. 1826.

20 Next we move to the section on higher education.
21 There is a basic reason for debating them in this order.
