

1 amendments attached to the bill so that the members of the 2 house of origin would know what amendment was offered to 3 that bill so there would be no guesswork whatsoever.

4 The five copies of the amendment offered to a 5 bill, one goes to the printer, two copies go to the 6 journal clerk, a copy goes to the legislative reference, 7 and one copy is used for the press.

8 That is the required five copies that must be 9 filed across the reading clerk's desk.

10 THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Gleason.

11 DELEGATE GLEASON: Let me go back over the road
12 once more with you, if I might, because the five copies 13 and the places they go to are things that are bothering me,
14 because this amendment says the bill shall not be approved 15 in final form in each house until the amendments are 16 printed, or are in writing, the bill is in writing, so I 17 am talking after the bill has left the house of origin, and 18 it comes to the second house. It has been amended already 19 in the house of origin and I understand the amendments are 20 printed on the copy of the bill. It is indicated on there.
21 It gets to the second house. The bill is up for discussion and amendments are proposed. Five copies are put across
