

DELEGATE M. SMITH: Mr. President, I desire to withdraw my objection to that word "and" on line 19, of page 5. Upon further reflection, I think perhaps it would prolong it, but it belongs there, but may I suggest to you, sir, some of this is going a little far.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objections to inserting on line 19, page 5, following the comma, after the word "years" the word "and"?

The Chair hears none. The modification will be made.

Are there any further changes?

Delegate Mentzer.

DELEGATE MENTZER: It is very understandable, Mr. Chairman, why the members are more fresh today than the members were last night past midnight. It is more our concern for the beautiful document in putting in commas that is taking so long.

I would like to call your attention to two places on page 8, one at line 23, where I believe to be consistent it should say "three fifths of all the members", and also on line—

THE PRESIDENT: Wait just a second.

Is there any objection in line 23, page 8, to insert the word "all" after the word "of"?

The Chair hears none. The modification will be made.

DELEGATE MENTZER: Also page 8, line 44, we changed "prescribed" to "provided" and I think we did it in error. Definitely it is a time to be prescribed in the law.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Penniman.

DELEGATE PENNIMAN: That is page 8, line what?

DELEGATE BAMBERGER: Line 44.

THE PRESIDENT: I think your point is well taken.

Delegate Penniman.

DELEGATE PENNIMAN: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection to changing the word "provided" on page 8, line 44, to the word "prescribed"?

Delegate Weidemeyer.

DELEGATE WEIDEMEYER: I do object because I do not think it prescribes such a thing. I think it is "provided" and I think "provided" is correct and therefore I object.

THE PRESIDENT: The point, Delegate Weidemeyer, is that since the date would be a precise date, it would be a "prescribed". Do you follow that?

In other words, the point made by Delegate Mentzer is that a later time, if a later time is prescribed, it would be prescribed because it would be a precise date, and therefore it would not be providing for a later time.

Delegate Weidemeyer.

DELEGATE WEIDEMEYER: I think it is providing for it to take effect.

THE PRESIDENT: That is your thought. You were reading it differently. A suspended law which is not repealed shall take effect thirty days after the referendum, or at a later time; if prescribed in the law to refers to the time, and not to the first part of the sentence.

DELEGATE WEIDEMEYER: I withdraw my objection.

THE PRESIDENT: Thank you.

Is there any objection to changing the word "provided" to "prescribed", line 44, page 8?

The Chair hears none. The change will be made.

Delegate Mentzer.

DELEGATE MENTZER: While I am doing so well, Mr. President, I would like to call attention to page 49, Incorporation Charters, and on line 16, there is a comma after the word "provided". It seems completely unnecessary.

THE PRESIDENT: Where?

DELEGATE MENTZER: Page 49, line 16, after the word "provided" at the end of the line.

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Penniman, do you agree?

DELEGATE PENNIMAN: I think it can be removed.

THE PRESIDENT: In the absence of objection, the comma after the word "provided" in line 16, on page 49, will be removed.

The Chair hears no objection. The modification will be made.
