Vice-President Clark's Secretary, Mrs. Alice Vlach.

(Applause.)

Vice-President James' Secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Basil.

(Applause.)

Say what you will, we have not only a very efficient, but a very attractive secretarial staff.

(Applause.)

This group also in the past few days have worked completely without regard to the clock, being here quite late at night; and night before last some of them had been here until 3:30 A.M. in the morning.

(Applause.)

Thank you all very much.

(Applause.)

And now our pages:

Mrs. Joan Marx, Chief of Pages.

(The delegates rose and applauded.)

Mrs. Clara Reba Horney, Assistant Chief of Pages.

(Applause.)

You do not see much of Mrs. Horney, because she hides in the bill room, but she is the one who is responsible for being certain that you get what you want when you want it.

(Applause.)

The present group of pages:

Margo Jackson.

(Applause.)

Stephanie Taylor.

(Applause.)

Daniel Gordon.

(Applause.)

Herman Rosenthal.

(Applause.)

Betsy Harrison.

(Applause.)

Suellen Fogg.

(Applause.)

Linda Peck.

(Applause.)

Carolyn Grogg.

(Applause.)

Mark Kleiman.

(Applause.)

Helen Feaga.

(Applause.)

Gary Yagel.

(Applause.)

Virginia Naegel.

(Applause.)

And the two permanent pages, Kathy Drake and Sue Mester.

(The delegates arose and applauded.)

And Maurice Morris.

(Applause.)

Cliff Hill.

(Applause.)

I know I speak on behalf of all of you when I express to this group as representative of the entire group of seventy-six pages our very sincere thanks and absolute delight at not only the service which they have rendered us, but their good spirits and their very, very attractive manners.

(Applause.)

And now I have suspended operation in the print shop. It has been on a twenty-four hour basis for the past three days. I said that regardless of what work has to be done, it will not be done at this moment.

I would like you to extend a very, very hearty welcome to the man who, more than any other person, is responsible for the flow of documents that have come to your desk in, I may say to you, millions of pieces of paper, Mr. Paul Harris.

(Applause.)

His assistants from the print shop, Marvin Arbaugh, who left here at 1:00 A.M. this morning.

(Applause.)

Jenice Brown, who replaced her sister, Vera.
