

Harry Day.

(Applause.)

Wayne Dunn.

(Applause.)

Walter Frisque, who operates the Xerox in the Chief Clerk's office.

(Applause.)

Carl Pederson, who also worked very late last night.

(Applause.)

Bob Edwards.

(Applause.)

Thank you all very much.

(Applause.)

I would also like to extend our personal thanks through Miss Fitzgerald to the representatives of the Jack Salomon Reporting Service who have so faithfully reported some 15,000 pages of transcript: Mr. Clifton J. Hunt, Mr. Price Banister, Miss Dorothy Fitzgerald, and the large group which back them up in the typing job.

(Applause.)

I think our troopers, even though they are out of uniform, should come forward and take a bow.

Trooper Hess.

(Applause.)

Trooper Howard.

(Applause.)

Trooper Pierce.

(Applause.)

Trooper Meil.

(Applause.)

Even at the time he should be taking a bow I am told Trooper Meil is on an errand for the Convention.

(Applause.)

Now, the next group was not advised of this, and I am not sure they will all hear, but I would like to recognize the gentlemen of the press who have been with us from the very start.

Without any particular order, and certainly without any priority:

The Baltimore Sun, George Rogers.

(Applause.)

Are any of the reporters in the lounge? If so, could somebody get them to come in?

Very well.

The Baltimore Sun, Ed Pickett and Charles Whiteford.

(Applause.)

Washington Post, Dick Homan.

(Applause.)

Washington Star, Jim Roland.

(Applause.)

WBAL, Albert Quinn.

(Applause.)

Maryland Delaware Press Association, Gene Ward.

(Applause.)

Annapolis Capital, Hal Burdett.

(Applause.)

AP's Tom Stuckey.

(Applause.)

He also, as many of you know, plays a mean piano.

AP's John Woodfield.

(Applause.)

AP News, Susan Phillips.

(Applause.)

Catholic Review, Robert Simanski.

(Applause.)

Washington Daily News, Francis Porter.

(Applause.)

I have had three notes passed to me now indicating a serious oversight. I assure you, it is not. My own secretary, Mrs. Looker, refuses to come in.

(Applause.)

And Dick Homan, will you stand?

(Applause.)

Mark Goodfield.

(Applause.)

Delegate Borom.

DELEGATE BOROM: Mr. Chairman, I think that we ought to let the record show
