

and attended a business college. He was formerly in the paint business. At present he is engaged in fruit packing, and never held office before. He was the Republican nominee for the First Branch of the City Council in 1888-1889, polling the largest vote of any Republican for council that ever ran in the second ward up to that time. He is president of the Active Republican Club of the Second Ward. He resides at 1508 Eastern avenue, Baltimore.

He is member of committee on labor, on insolvency, on immigration.

Charles E. Cunningham.

Charles E. Cunningham was born May 18th, 1864, in East Baltimore. His father, William A. Cunningham, was one of Baltimore's prominent builders, and during the war was connected with the police department. His mother, Mary A. Cunningham, was the daughter of Albert McComas, who was the uncle of young McComas, who killed General Ross at the battle of North Point. He is the youngest of nine children, three only of whom are now living. He was educated in the public schools, but was compelled to go to work when but twelve years of age, starting out in life as errand boy for Samuel Hunt & Sons, from which he entered the clothing manufacturing business, in which business he remained in various capacities until three years ago, when he entered the real estate business. He is grand worthy patriarch of Sons of Temperance of the State of Maryland, president of the Southern Loan and Saving Association, and prominently connected with the Junior Order American Mechanics, Shield of Honor and Improved Order of Heptasophs. He married in 1892, and resides at 110 South Ann street, in the third ward. He has always been a Republican.

He is a member of committee on militia, chairman committee on expiring laws, on public records, on civil service.

George W. Padgett.

George W. Padgett, Republican, of the House of Delegates, was born on Gay street, near Aisquith street, on February 1, 1858, and has always lived in the city. He is engaged with his brother in the fresh fish business, with the firm of W. H. Padgett's Sons, in the Belair, Richmond and Hollins markets, which was established forty years ago. He was educated in the public schools, being a pupil in the old Baltimore City College, corner Fayette and Holliday streets. He also took a three-year course in the Maryland Institute School of Art and Design. He has always been a Republican in politics, and has been a member of