CHAPTER 97.

AN ACT to enable Frostburg Lodge number forty-nine, Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, to sell and transfer their hall.

Passed Mar. 6, 1867.

WHEREAS, Frostburg Lodge number forty-nine, Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, working under an Act of incorporation from the General Assembly of Maryland, passed February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and forty-seven, chapter one hundred and twenty-seven, did by purchase obtain from Messrs. Aden Clary, J. S. Welch, Jas. H. McCoy and others all the right, title, claim and interest in and to a certain building known as Frostburg School House, adjoining lots of J. T. Getzandanner and others, in the town of Frostburg, county of Allegany, and State of Maryland, which said building is now used, the lower part as a school room and the upper part as a Lodge room; and whereas, the terms of purchase prohibit them from selling or transferring the aforesaid building for any other purpose than a school house; therefore,
