

INTRODUCTION

In this copy of the Maryland Manual, for 1938, will be found much valuable information concerning the State of Maryland, including its Charter and Constitution, and the names of all State and County officials, and members and functions of the several commissions, boards and other governmental agencies which have been created. Financial, educational, historical and political data, as well as other information of general interest, is also given herein. Reference to newly elected, as well as present, officials, has been included in order that this Manual may be of the greatest possible value.

I desire to express my sincere appreciation to all who have assisted in compiling the necessary material and publishing this Manual.

E. RAY JONES,
Secretary of State.
