The remaining three Commissioners hear cases. Hearings are held throughout the State in contested cases. The Commission is responsible for the determination of what occupations are covered under the law. It receives reports of accidents, and adjudicates claims for compensation arising under the law. Through the Safety Department, periodic examinations and inspections are made of the various industrial plants to determine what safety precautions are being taken. The Commission may require any plant or industry under the jurisdiction of the Act to take necessary steps to correct any unsafe condition or practice which may exist. The Safety Department sponsors a Safety Conference in cooperation with the various industries of the State for the purpose of encouraging safe working practices and safe working conditions (Code 1947 Supp. Art. 101, sec. 1).

The Medical Board for Occupational Diseases was established in 1939. The members of the Board are appointed by the Governor, with the approval of the Senate, from a list of nominees submitted by the Deans of the Schools of Medicine of the University of Maryland and The John Hopkins University and by the Council of the Medical and Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland. Each agency submits a list of three persons, two of whom are experienced in occupational diseases, and one of whom is an experienced roentgenologist. Each appointee to the board must be a licensed physician in good professional standing, two of whom shall have had at least five years practice in the treating, diagnosis, and care of industrial diseases, the third member having been trained in roentgenology and having had five years practice and experience. The Chairman of the Board is designated by the Governor. The Board hears and adjudicates all claims for compensation for disability caused by an occupational disease as defined by the law. The decisions of the Board are subject to review by the Industrial Accident Commission (Code 1947 Supp. Art. 101, sec. 27).
