

The original membership consisted of the Comptroller of the Treasury, the State Treasurer, and the Directors of the Department of Budget and Procurement, the State Planning Department and the Department of Assessments and Taxation. The Committee had its membership expanded in 1962 to include three members from outside the State government. At that time, the Committee's function was expanded to keep the State's bonded indebtedness and other fiscal matters under constant surveillance so that the Governor, in appraising requests and legislation calling for State financial support, would have adequate background and advice readily available to him.

The Governor appointed this Commission in 1967 to replace the Commission on Crime and Delinquency. The present Commission is composed of professionals working day to day in the field of its activities as well as laymen with demonstrated knowledge and interest in law enforcement and criminal justice. The Commission is to evaluate the recommendations of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration, appraising the needs of the State's criminal systems and putting into effect those proposals of the Presi-
