The Governor appointed this special eight-member advisory committee in 1969 to study the effects of DDT and other pesticides in Maryland in an effort to determine whether more rigid controls or even a complete prohibition of the chemicals used in pesticides is needed. The committee is to make its report by January 1970 together with its recommendations for any tighter controls needed to regulate the use of pesticides. The committee is also attempting to compile more data on the residual effects of pesticides on Maryland's people, wildlife, fish, livestock, and crops.

The Governor appointed this special study commission in 1969 to examine the needs and sources of new taxes and to propose, if necessary, broad reforms of the State's tax structure. The Commission will also consider the State's long-term tax revenues in relation to its expenditures and the relationship between the finances of local units of government and those of the State. The Commission is expected to report to the 1971 Session of the General Assembly.

The address of the Status of Women Commission is 5411 Harvest Moon Lane, Columbia 21403.
