The State Board of Community Colleges was established by Chapter 454, Acts of 1968 to exercise full control over the community colleges in the State. Until July 1, 1969, the Board served as an advisory board to the State Board of Education with respect to the operation, promotion and functions of the community colleges. After July 1, 1969, the Board assumed its statutory duties.

The Board consists of seven members. One of the members must be the State Superintendent of Schools. The remaining members are appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for six-year terms. Members of the Board must be appointed for their interest in civic and public affairs and for their knowledge and perception in educational matters. One of the members must be a member of the State Board of Education. The Board selects its own officers and employees.

The same Act also provided that upon the request of a local board of education, local boards of community college trustees may be appointed. These local boards, if any, are to consist of seven members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate, for six-year terms. In Baltimore City, the board is to be appointed by the Mayor and the City Council. Each board must include one member of the Board of Education or the Baltimore City Board of School Commissioners. Of these seven members, one must represent the Board of Education or the Board of School Commissioners and the majority of the members of the board may not be members of the local boards of education. Each board may select its own officers (Code 1957, 1965 Repl. Vol., 1968 Supp., Art. 77, secs 300-305).
