The Maryland School for the Deaf was established in 1868 as a free public residential school for deaf and hard-of-hearing children who reside in the State. The Governor appoints the thirty members of the Board of Visitors for indefinite terms (Acts 1867, chap. 247; 1868, chap. 409; 1880, chap. 19; 1916, chap. 76; 1957, chap. 148 as amended).

Chapter 462, Acts of 1968, established a Branch of the Maryland School for the Deaf to be located near the population center of the State and to be administered and operated as part of and subject to the Maryland School for the Deaf.

The first phase of this Branch School, which is called Columbia Campus Maryland School for the Deaf, opened in September 1973 (Code Education Article, sec. 8-304).

The school offers an academic education similar to that of public schools and in addition provides thorough instruction in communication skills, including speech and speech reading, signs and fingerspelling, auditory training, and use of individual hearing aids. In addition to the academic program, courses of study in vocational education are also offered to both male and female students. The vocational training includes industrial arts, homemaking, and woodworking. The school offers a broad athletic and physical education program, including such major sports as football, baseball, and track, as well as a wide range of social and recreational activities. Vocational rehabilitation services are available to all graduating students to assist them in seeking employment, vocational or technical training, or higher education.

The Medical Mutual Liability Insurance Society of Maryland was created by Chapter 544, Acts of 1975. The Society is governed by an eleven-member board of directors initially appointed by the Governor. Thereafter, the directors are to be elected by the members of the Society in accordance with the articles of incorporation and bylaws.

The purpose of the Society is to provide for the payment of indemnities to persons suffering injury arising out of the rendering or failure to render professional services by physicians and to provide the means whereby the physicians may obtain insurance against liability for injury due to the rendering or failure to render any professional service subject to the limitations and immunities
