FEDERAL JUDGES IN MARYLANDUNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS

The United States Courts of Appeals are intermediate appellate courts created in 1891 to relieve overcrowding of the U.S. Supreme Court docket. The appeals courts are empowered to review all decisions of federal district courts, except in those few instances where direct review by the Supreme Court is mandated. Appeals Court judges are appointed by the President of the United States with the advice and consent of the U.S. Senate.

The United States is divided into twelve judicial circuits. Maryland is in the fourth judicial circuit, which also includes Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina. Maryland's two members of the U.S. Court of Appeals maintain chambers in the U.S. Courthouse in Baltimore.
