ORIGIN & FUNCTIONS

The Department of Labor, Licensing, and Regulation supervises employment training, job match services, unemployment insurance, and many of the State's licensing and regulatory boards.

Departmental responsibilities for employment and training and labor and industry date to the late nineteenth century. Then, farm labor was scarce and the labor reform movement was gaining momentum. The Bureau of Statistics and Information collected information on labor problems and abuses and reported annually to the General Assembly. In 1902, operation of a free State employment agency was added to Bureau responsibilities (Chapter 365, Acts of 1902).
