Passed Jan 25 1806

Preamble.

WHEREAS the trustees of Bethel congregation, by their petition to this general assembly, have represented, that the said congregation bought three acres of land under lease, for the purpose of building a house of worship, and paid for the same, a considerable time before the American revolution; that they erected a house of worship thereon, and laid out a portion thereof for a burying ground, which hath been used for these purposes ever since; that the said congregation hath been incorporated according to law, and have purchased the fee in said three acres from the state, and have paid the composition money into the treasury, and did appoint Thomas Hope, a member of the society, to obtain a patent for the same for the use of said congregation, and that the patent hath issued in his name accordingly, and that he being advanced in years, is desirous to convey the same to the said trustees, but they are precluded from receiving the same by the declaration of rights, without leave of the legislature; they also represent, that any diminution will most materially injure said lot, either by taking away the church or excluding a large part of the burying-ground; they therefore pray that a law may pass granting leave, and authorising the said Thomas Hope, to convey to said trustees, and their successors, the said three acres of land for the purposes aforesaid; and the same being considered reasonable, therefore,
