

CRIMINAL LAW—

See APPEAL AND ERROR; ARREST; BAIL; HABEAS CORPUS; HUE AND CRY; JURY; INDICTMENTS; PENALTIES; NAMES OF SPECIFIC OFFENSES.

duty of prosecutor to produce in court witnesses named on back of indictment, 234.

right of accused to have counsel at preliminary examination, 492.

admissibility of confession given under oath before committing magistrate, 494.

taking statement from prisoner at preliminary hearing, 494.

binding over or committing witnesses, at preliminary hearing, 494-495.

character of offense of sheriff in letting his county or any bailiwick, 328.

abolition of forfeitures for felonies, 331, 332.

power of court to dispose of chattels in possession of convicted felon, 332.

English statute prohibiting seizure of prisoner's goods before conviction, 331, 332.

form of peace warrant, 333.

liability of estate of prisoner for costs of apprehension and prosecution, 331.

liability of estate of prisoner for reparation to injured party, 331.

conveyance by accused to injured person, by way of reparation, 332.

power of person charged with crime to dispose of his property pending prosecution, while forfeitures prevailed, 332.

particular acts as crimes hindering coroner's inquest, 94.

alteration, razing or embezzlement of will or record, 310.

threat to start prosecution to recover penalties, for purpose of obtaining money, 553.

forcible entry and detainer as crime

as affected by character of entry or detainer, 248-249.

forcible entry by landlord under tenant's license, 248.

as affected by property entered, 248-249.

what persons may be guilty of offense, 249.

practice and proceedings in prosecution under the English statutes, 251-255.

CROPS—

See EMBLEMMENTS; FRAUDS, STATUTE OF; PROVENDER; SALES.

CURTESY—

See DOWER (HUSBAND'S).