MISCELLANIA

Tilden was elected by more popular votes and by more electoral votes than Hayes. The Republicans disputed returns from South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Oregon and in a most daring misuse of power, mustered enough electoral votes to give Hayes a victory only 56 hours before the inauguration.

MISCELLANIA

Garfield, the second President to be killed by an assassin, served 200 days and for 80 of those he lay near death with a bullet through his spine.

Arthur surprised the nation by his ability to administer; despite his conscientious devotion to duty, his party refused to give him a chance to run for the next term. It was during his time in office that the Washington monument was dedicated.
