

An order of publication on a bill to redeem a ground rent, held to substantially describe the property. Hollander v. Central Metal Co., 109 Md. 149.

Where the order of publication was only published for three weeks, instead of one month (as provided by the act of 1842, ch. 229), the decree was reversed. Central Bank v. Copeland, 18 Md. 320.

The act of 1896, ch. 38 (providing a method of service in lieu of an order of publication), does not give equity courts jurisdiction of non-residents in actions in personam. Fisher v. Parr, 92 Md. 272.

The act of 1896, ch. 38 (providing a method of service in lieu of an order of publication), applied. Chappell v. Clarke, 94 Md. 182.

For a case dealing with the act of 1799, ch. 79, sec. 1, see Burd v. Greenleaf, 1 Bl. 557.

Cited but not construed in Neale v. Hagthorp, 3 Bl. 573; Buckingham v. Peddicord, 2 Bl. 457; Contee v. Dawson, 2 Bl. 306.

See notes to sec. 138.

As to the issue of orders of publication by the clerks of the courts having jurisdiction, see art. 17, sec. 38.

An. Code, sec. 136. 1904, sec. 128. 1888, sec. 115. 1884, ch. 268.

143. Upon application for a renewal of a lease containing a covenant for renewal, where any person or persons interested in the reversion reserved in said lease, and who should be the party or parties to the proceedings, is or are unknown, it shall be sufficient to substantially describe such unknown person or persons in the bill as the unknown person or persons interested in said reversion, by, through or under the original lessor or lessors, naming him or them; and the court shall order notice by publication to be given to such unknown person or persons, according to his or their description in the bill, and the same proceedings shall be had against such unknown person or persons as are had against non-resident defendants named in a bill in chancery; and any decree which may be passed shall have the same effect against such unknown person or persons, whether claiming by descent, purchase or in any other manner, and against his or their heirs, executors or administrators and assigns, as if such unknown person or persons had been made a defendant or defendants by name in said bill.

See art. 16, sec. 111; also art. 21, sec. 96.

Abatement of Places of Lewdness.¹

An. Code, sec. 136A. 1918, ch. 84, sec. 136A.

144. Whoever shall erect, establish, continue, maintain, use, own or rent any building, erection, or place used for purposes of lewdness, assignation, or prostitution in the State of Maryland, is guilty of a nuisance, and the building, erection, or place, and the ground itself in or upon which such lewdness, assignation, or prostitution is conducted, permitted or carried on, continued, or exists, and the furniture, fixtures, musical instruments, and other contents thereof are also declared a nuisance, and may be enjoined and abated as hereinafter provided.

An. Code, sec. 136B. 1918, ch. 84, sec. 136B.

145. Whenever a nuisance is kept, maintained, or exists such as is defined in this sub-title, the State's Attorney of any County or of Baltimore
