

1916, ch. 514, sec. 12.

12. It shall be the duty of the Mayor of said town to see that the ordinances of said town are duly and faithfully executed; he shall have general supervision of the town and shall from time to time report to the council such matters as in his judgment require the attention of the council. He shall have power to administer oaths and to certify the same in all matters pertaining to said corporation, and for the purpose of hearing and determining all cases to which the corporation may be a party he is hereby clothed with all the powers of a Justice of the Peace except as to civil cases, and may pass sentence and impose fines for all violation of ordinances in the said corporation, or may imprison offenders in the county jail, or may both fine and imprison offenders against said ordinances. Provided that no ordinance shall be passed imposing a fine for more than twenty-five dollars, or for a term of imprisonment exceeding thirty days, and all fines imposed shall be paid to the clerk of the town. During his term he shall hold no other corporation office, nor shall he be interested in any contract to which the corporation is a party. The Mayor shall receive for his services a sum not exceeding six dollars per annum, and the members of the council shall each receive a sum not exceeding two dollars per annum, provided that any person shall have the right to donate to the town their services whenever they see proper so to do.

1916, ch. 514, sec. 13.

13. The said council shall have power to pass all such other ordinances not contrary to the constitution or laws of this state as it may deem necessary for the good government of the town; for the protection and preservation of the town property, rights and privileges; for the preservation of the peace and good order; and securing persons from violence, danger and destruction; for the protection of the health, comfort and convenience of the citizens of said town and visitors thereto or sojourners there; for providing for proper and suitable lights on the streets; for establishing, maintaining and regulating an adequate police force; to regulate the management and location of livery stables, barns, garages, outhouses or privies and hog pens, and such other establishments of which the business, trade or location may become obnoxious or injurious to the public comfort or health; to prohibit the erection of such buildings, the continuance of obnoxious occupations therein whenever the public health requires it; to prevent and regulate the use of firearms therein, fireworks, bonfires or other things or practices tending to endanger persons or property; to regulate or prohibit the running at large of cattle, horses, swine, fowls, sheep, goats, hogs or other animals; to authorize the impounding, keeping, sale and redemption of such animals when found in violation of the ordinances in such cases provided; to prevent the deposit of any unwholesome substance either on public or private property, to compel its removal to designated points, and to require slop, ashes and other waste or unwholesome material to be removed to designated points, or to require the occupants or residents on premises to place them conveniently for removal; to compel
