

across to William W. Broadwater's; then across to the headwaters of Bear Pen run near James Reshe's place in the "Backwoods"; then to Horse pond or Poplar run by way of Ashford Warnick's at old lumber camp near Perry Broadwater's; then with said run to one of its springs at James Madison Dust; then running in a straight line to the top of Meadow Mountain; then with said mountain to James Ross' residence; then by a direct line to Charles O. Warwick's residence; then by way of Jacob Hoover's to county road near Benedict Beachy's farm; then to top of Negro Mountain by Rushe's mill and John Spiker's former place, where the county road from Bittinger to Engle's Mills crosses the mountain top; then in a straight line in a northerly course to the forks of the Morgantown road and the National pike, west of Keyser; then due north to the Mason and Dixon's line; then with it due east to a point which is due north of the west side of what was formerly known as Recknor's tavern upon the old National pike; then by a due south line from the above point and round west of Recknor's tavern south to the intersection of said line with Mud Lick run; then down Mud Lick run to its mouth at Savage river; then down Savage river to the bridge over said river near John Wilhelm's place, the point of beginning.

1908, ch. 67, sec. 5 (p. 814).

156. District number four (4) shall be known as Bloomington district, and shall begin in the State line on the Potomac river opposite the mouth of Folly run, and run thence down the Potomac to a point south of the centre of the mouth of Savage river; then north to the centre of the mouth of Savage river; thence with the line of Allegany county to the intersection of said line with Mill run; then up Mill run to the head of the west fork of said run; then by a straight line to the old ford in Savage river; then up said river to the mouth of Bear Pen run; then up Bear Pen run to its head near James Reshe's place; then by a straight line to the mouth of Black Hawk run, north of Tom ridge; then down Middle Fork river to its juncture with Crab Tree creek; then by a line south 12 degrees east to "Thomas' Dump," on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; then westward along said railroad 140 perches to a point 15 perches west of the Frankville depot; then leaving the railroad and running by a line south 20 degrees east 248 perches to four bounded chestnut trees, near the laurel thicket at McRobie's Path; then running along the north side of the Westernport and Clarksburg road westerly to Folly run; then down with the meanders of said run to the State line upon the right or east bank of the Potomac river, the point of beginning.

1908, ch. 67, sec. 6 (p. 814).

157. District number five (5) shall be known as Accident district and shall begin at or near the summit of Winding ridge, where said ridge is crossed by Mason and Dixon's line, and run with the summit of said ridge in a southwesterly direction to Bear creek; then by a straight line to a spring upon the west side of the county road at Elder; then by a