

to the person killing same the sum of fifty cents for each dog or slut so caused to be killed by them, provided it be paid from the tax collected on dogs and sluts under this Act; and any person opposing or in any way hindering said Treasurer or any one appointed by him to kill any dog or slut in the performance of his duty under this Act, shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars and costs, nor less than ten dollars and costs, upon conviction before any justice of the peace in and for Talbot County, and shall stand committed to the county jail until the fine and costs are paid.

120. The County Treasurer shall canvass thoroughly the said county in order to ascertain the names of the owners or keepers of dogs and sluts therein; and when a person shall have paid to him the tax on any dog or slut he shall register in a book kept for that purpose the full name of such person, the number and sex of the animal or animals, and the amount of tax paid, and shall also give to each person so registered a certificate of registration.

121. Any person who shall maliciously remove from any dog wearing the same the metal tag issued to the owner of said dog by the County Commissioners, shall be fined fifty dollars, to be recovered by the usual proceedings in such cases.

1910, ch. 565, sec. 9 (p. 1154).

122. In case of loss of tag issued as above referred to any person for his dog, a duplicate shall be furnished for said dog on payment of ten cents therefor to the County Commissioners and satisfactory evidence being produced that the tax has been paid on said dog for the current year.

1910, ch. 565, sec. 10 (p. 1154).

123. The neglect of any constable to perform the duties required of him by this Act shall be sufficient cause of forfeiture of office, and the Board of County Commissioners of said Talbot County is hereby directed to remove, immediately from office any constable within said county who shall neglect to perform his duty.

1910, ch. 565, sec. 11 (p. 1154).

124. The tax on dogs and sluts provided for under Section 114 of this subtitle shall not apply to any person who may desire to keep kennels for breeding or raising dogs for sale, or packs of hounds for hunting foxes; but all persons who keep or may desire to keep a kennel or pack of fox-hounds as aforesaid must obtain from the County Commissioners, on paying for the same the sum of five dollars, a "kennel or pack license," under which license the number of dogs or sluts kept for said hunting or breeding purposes is not limited by this Act, but the person or persons applying for the license provided for under this section shall advise the County Commis-
