

SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That the capital stock of said company shall be deemed personal property, and that the shares of said stock may be transferred on the books of said company, in such manner as its by-laws may direct, and when the said company shall be organised the amount due upon the subscriptions to its capital stock shall be paid in instalments, at such times as the president and directors may require the same to be paid; they giving at least thirty days notice of the demand of any instalment in at least one paper published in the county, and in default of payment of any instalment the president and directors may offer at public sale, so many of the shares in default as may be sufficient to discharge the sum then due on the same, and the purchaser thereof shall hold the same subject to the same regulations and with the same rights, as if they had been originally subscribed by him.

Capital stock deemed personal property

SEC. 7. And be it enacted, That the president and directors of said company shall be, and they are hereby invested with all the rights and powers necessary for building a bridge over the Bohemia river at or near the ferry, together with wharf and warehouses and servants tenements; the said bridge to be substantially built, and to have at least sixteen feet clear width between the parapets, with a draw at the channel at least thirty-five feet wide; the said bridge to be kept at all times in good repair, and the said company shall allow the passage of all vessels through the draw free of any expense, and shall at all times keep sufficient force to open said draw, so as not in any manner to obstruct the navigation of said river.

Vested rights.

SEC. 8. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act, and the said bridge and other improvements therein contemplated, shall be deemed public works, and all persons or any person or persons who shall in any wise damage or injure the same, shall be liable to be proceeded against and punished in like manner as if the injury or damage had been done to any other public work; and it shall and may be lawful for the said company to ask and receive, of all persons before they shall be entitled to pass over said bridge, such rates of tolls as the president and directors of said company may fix upon; Provided, such tolls do not exceed the rates now charged for passing said ferry; and the company shall cause a list of tolls to be placed in a conspicuous place on the bridge, and any agent or servant of the company charging more than those rates shall be liable to be fined for each and every offence at the discretion of the magistrate, not less than five nor more

Deemed public work.

Proviso.