

Directed to furnish.

gate's "Register;" one copy of Latrobe's "Justice," and one copy of the "Acts of Assembly," as fully as he is able so to do out of the surplus copies of the same now in the library; and one copy of Hinkley's "Testamentary Law;" and to the Register of Wills of said county, for the use of the Orphans' Court, one copy of the "Revised Code" and of the old "Code of General and Local Laws," with the supplements thereto; one copy of Hinkley's "Testamentary Law," and one copy of Latrobe's "Justice."