

1 states in connection with constitutional conventions or 2 constitutional revisions with respect to their judi-
3 ciary articles.

4 MR. WINTERS: Well, prior to joining the 5 American Judicature Society, I lived in the State of 6 Missouri where I was originally admitted to the bar and 7 that was the very time that Missouri was going through 8 its studies on selection of judges which resulted in 9 the adoption at that very time of what has become to 10 be known as the Missouri Plan, actually a proposal which 11 had been devised in advance by the American Judicature
12 Society. Since then, there have been major constitution-
13 al revisions. There have been judicial articles in New 14 Jersey, Illinois and Puerto Rico. I would not under-15 take to name all of them, California; and the American 16 Judicature Society has been involved in greater or 17 lesser extent, in all of these. I would not say, of 18 course, we had a controlling part or even a leading 19 part, but we have been active in all of those, in 20 particular the, judicial aspects of them.

21 MR. MARTINEAU: Well, have you through your