

1 final date. Maybe taking out the comma would do it.

2 THE CHAIRMAN: Any further question or comment?

3 JUDGE ADKINS: I have this question, it is 4 probably my own inability to read this language. It
5 is quite clear in everybody's mind that the Governor has 6 the right to veto any amendment, any plan which the 7 General Assembly should propose as an alternative to his 8 plan, or does this give the General Assembly a new way
9 of enacting a law without reference to the gubernatorial 10 veto?

11 THE CHAIRMAN: Dr. Bard, in earlier discussions, 12 I think reports of your Committee, but maybe of the 13 Executive Department Committee, someone suggested that when-
14 ever we mean to refer to action by the General Assembly 15 that is subject to gubernatorial veto, that we should 16 say General Assembly by law shall do this or that, carry 17 that thought. Maybe that would be appropriate here.

18 DR. BARD: We are saying subject to guber-
19 natorial veto.

20 THE CHAIRMAN: This is another matter.

21 DR. BARD: Our Committee thought if the plan
