

1 go on and on. If we have an annual salary that each mem-
2 ber of the Legislature is paid X-dollars a year, regard-3 less of how many days that he attends, there would 4 certainly be no incentive to increase the time, and I can 5 assure you in my legislative experience, although it
6 wasn't on the State level, that nobody in the Legislature
7 doesn't want the adjournment just as soon as they can get 8 home, if the national interest or the state interest will 9 permit it, so I would like whatever we do, and I will go 10 vote for the 70 days or seven days or seven months, but 11 I would like to have somewhere in our Constitution the 12 fact that in the sound discretion of the General Assem-
13 bly, it could meet whether anybody else asked them to or not.
14 That is the only thought I want to leave with you.

15 THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Sayre?

16 MR. SAYRE: One thing that bothers me a little 17 bit is on the reapportionment provision, for example, let's 18 just say that the governor had 120 days in which to 19 prepare a plan and let's just say that the Legislature
20 had another 120 days in which to come out with its own 21 plan or whatever. You already have the problem as to what
