

I have no hesitation in ruling, therefore, that all pre-existing statutes relating to custody of such records, are repealed to the extent of their inconsistency, although, of course, your office will still continue to perform its primary function, and retain the custody of all records necessary for said purpose.

Yours very truly,

HERBERT R. O'CONOR,

Attorney General,

(Report and Official Opinions of Attorney General—Maryland 1935, pp. 281-282)