In so far as changes in personnel are concerned, the fiscal year just passed was a duplicate of the previous one. For the first part of the year, until September 1, 1946, there were no changes in salary to compensate for the sharp rise in the cost of living which had been in progress for over a year. On September 1, Governor O'Connor granted a small increase to every State employee, and, of course, the staff of the Hall of Records bene-
