

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That whenever the Board of Directors shall deem it for the best interest of any girl in its custody, it shall authorize the Superintendent to release such girl on parole as soon as a suitable home has been found for her. And no home shall be deemed suitable which does not conform to the religious faith of the girl unless there be written consent from her religious instructor.

One or more women shall be employed as visiting parole agents to investigate homes, visit girls on parole and make such other investigations as may be deemed needful by the Superintendent. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent to recall any girl who may not conduct herself properly while she is on parole or whose home has not been found suitable.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That there is hereby appropriated out of the Treasury of the State of Maryland, the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for the purpose of carrying on work and investigation preliminary to the establishment of said institution; and said corporation is hereby directed to report the result of said findings to the Governor of Maryland, and by him to be transmitted to the General Assembly of Maryland at its session in 1916.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That this Act shall take effect from the date of its passage.

Approved April 16th, 1914.

---

CHAPTER 844.

AN ACT to create a Commission to conduct a survey of the public schools, normal schools, and the State-aided elementary and secondary schools, and the higher educational institutions of the State of Maryland; to endow said Commission with all the necessary powers to carry out the purposes of this Act; to appropriate a sum of money for the expenses of said Commission.

WHEREAS, It is the desire of the General Assembly, that there be made a comprehensive study of the public school system of the State of Maryland, of the State-aided elementary and secondary schools and the higher educational institutions of the State of Maryland, with a view of correlating and co-ordinating the different institutions, wholly or partially supported by State appropriations; and,