

CHAP. 103.

Compensation to clerk

SEC. 14. And be it enacted, That in consideration of the extra duties which the execution of this law will impose on their clerk, the county commissioners may allow him such a sum of money, to be collected as other county charges are, as they may think will be a reasonable and just compensation for the performance of such extra duties; and that the present clerk of said commissioners be and he is hereby authorised and qualified to hold his office as such clerk without a new election, for one year from and after the expiration of the time for which he was last elected.

Powers given the commissioners

SEC. 15. And be it enacted, That if the said county commissioners shall at any time after the completion of the assessment and valuation provided for by this act, discover real or personal property in said county which has not been assessed and taxed, although liable to be assessed and taxed under existing laws, they shall assess and value all such property at its fair value, and levy taxes thereupon accordingly; and when property is taxed which ought not to be, they shall have power to release such taxation; and when any person or corporation is charged with taxes which another ought to pay, they shall have the power to charge the person or corporation properly liable with all such taxes.

Commissioners may order new assessment, &c

SEC. 16. And be it enacted, That at all subsequent periods, the commissioners of Allegany county may, when in their opinion the public interest requires it, order a new assessment and valuation of the real and personal property in said county, according to the provisions of this act; and that they shall have the power to appoint assessors to make such new assessment and valuation, two to be appointed for the county at large, and one associate for each district, and to fill all vacancies, should any occur from any cause, after such appointments; and that said commissioners shall prescribe a time for the assessors to complete their assessment and valuation; and if not completed within such time, the said commissioners may allow such further time as they think proper; and that in relation to such future assessment and valuations, the law shall be in all respects the same as though this act were re-enacted for the occasion, excepting so far as it would interfere with this section of the act, and produce inconsistency.
