

CHAP. 282. semblable within thirty days from the time of such notification, at the academy, and that said members shall then and there proceed to fill such vacancy or vacancies in the same manner that is directed by this act for other elections of trustees; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the subscribers to said academy from increasing the number of trustees.

General powers SEC. 4. And be it enacted, That the trustees, or a majority of them, shall have power and authority to constitute and appoint from time to time, and at all times, professors, teachers and assistant teachers, for instructing the students and pupils of the academy, in the various departments mentioned or referred to, at the close of the first section of this act, or in such of those departments as the trustees, subject to the control of the subscribers, shall think it proper that the students and pupils shall be taught in; and to make ordinances and regulations not inconsistent with the ordinances and by-laws established by the subscribers, for the good government of the academy, and the instructions of its students and pupils, and for examinations of the students and pupils, and exhibitions of their works, and to appoint such number of their own body, as they shall think proper, to be a committee for superintending and transacting the business of the seminary, and making rules for the management thereof; said rules to be subject to revision and alteration by the trustees, and ultimately by the subscribers; and that the trustees have further power and authority to call general meetings of the subscribers to the academy or members of the association, whenever in their discretion they shall judge it proper to call such meetings.

Right of voting to be ascertain'd SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That for the purpose of ascertaining who are entitled to vote for trustees of the academy, or at any proceedings of the members of the association or corporation, the trustees shall record in a book, kept for that purpose, the names of all persons who have subscribed to the academy, and the amount subscribed by each of them; and that the right to vote, may be transferred by assignment in writing, under the hand and seal of the party transferring it, and attested by one witness or more, and may be disposed of by last will; and if not so disposed of, shall descend to the legal representatives of the deceased proprietor.

May transfer right, &c

To keep record of proceedings SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That the trustees and the committee of the trustees shall keep fair and accurate records of all their proceedings, and that said record shall be