

are, or shall be, by law, authorised to charge and receive. CHAP. 93.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That any rail road that may hereafter be constructed or purchased by the said Cumberland Coal and Iron company, shall be so located or used as to occupy as little space at the passage through the Gap at Wills' Mountain, near Cumberland, as may be compatible with the full and convenient use of such rail road, and in such manner as to produce as little obstruction as may be, to the location of other rail roads through said gap, by any company now authorised, or that may hereafter be authorised, to construct the same under the authority of this State.

To be constructed so as to occupy little space at the gap at Wills mountain

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That all questions of difference that may hereafter arise, between the said Cumberland Coal and Iron company, and any other company or citizens, in regard to the locating, constructing or working its rail road or rail roads, or in respect to the charges for transportation thereon, as authorised by this act, shall be submitted to, and be decided by the Commissioners of Public Works of this State, and in case of an equal division of the Board of Commissioners, the Treasurer of the State shall decide the same, and the decision of said Board or Treasurer shall be final.

All questions of difference with any other company or citizens, to be submitted to commissioners of public works.

SEC. 9. And be it enacted, That so soon as this act shall be accepted by the said Cumberland Coal and Iron company, the same shall take effect, and be held and considered as a part of the charter of said company; Provided, however, that the right is reserved to the General Assembly to alter, amend or repeal this act, or any of the provisions thereof, at pleasure.

Act so soon as accepted to take effect.

Proviso.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That the said Cumberland Coal and Iron company shall be, and they are hereby required annually to mine out and carry to the Atlantic market, commencing within six months after said Cumberland Coal and Iron company shall accept the provisions of this act, at least two hundred thousand tons of coal, and a failure to mine out and convey to market the quantity of coal as aforesaid, shall be a forfeiture of all the corporate rights, privileges and franchises, granted to, or conferred on the said Cumberland Coal and Iron company, under this act.

Amount of coal to be conveyed to market.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the said Cumberland Coal and Iron company, shall report annually, on the first day of January, in each and every year, to the Governor of the State, the quantity of coal

To report annually to Governor.