

and proper, the due publication of which notice shall be certified to said court, by the affidavit of the publishers of such papers, wherein such notice shall be published.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That all future dividends, other than that already declared by said trustees, and which said trustees are paying, shall be declared in the said court, upon the reports of the said trustees, to be filed in said court from time to time, verified by affidavit, and the said trustees, as soon as may be, after the dividend now being paid by them shall have been paid, and whether the same shall have been fully paid or not, (as some creditors may not come in for a long time,) shall before the day to be limited as aforesaid, by said court, report to said court all the assets of said bank, which have come into their hands since they assumed the said trust, and been converted into money, up to the time of making said report, and also report the amount paid out by them in expenses of said trust and in paying the dividend of twenty-five per cent. already declared, and shall file in said court all the notes of said bank and other claims shall have been filed with them before making said report, and also the amount of money paid by them on said dividend; and in filing in said court the notes of the said bank, and other claims which shall have been filed with said trustees, they shall file a list of the owners thereof and of the amount owned by each and all, verified by the oath of said trustees, which notes being so filed by said trustees, with such list, shall entitle such owners to receive all future dividends in the same manner, as if they had filed their notes and claims in said court; and the report of said trustees, verified as aforesaid, and showing the parties to whom the dividends already declared have been paid, shall in all future dividends, be treated and taken as therein reported, and entitle such parties to a participation of all future dividends; and all note holders who shall not file their notes with said trustees for a dividend, before the making of said report, shall file the same in said court before the time limited by said court for filing of the same.

Future dividends.

George A.
Bank of Mary-
ust as expe-
them in so

eral Assem-
rt for Alle-
e and it is
pon the ap-
A. Pearre,
aryland, to
creditors of
otes of said
ors against direct such
rt for filing
seem right