

He afterwards engaged in mercantile life, until about twenty years since, when he returned to the place of his birth; and from the time of his return held successively various public offices, and also the post of Adjutant General at the time of his death.

His worth and capacity are best certified by the length of the time during which the State demanded his services.

By his death the community have lost a good citizen, the public a faithful servant, and the State an efficient officer; Therefore,

Ordered, By the House of Delegates of Maryland, that in token of their respect, this house will attend his funeral on Sunday morning next, at ten o'clock at the House of Delegates—and his Excellency the Governor and Secretary of State, and other officers of the State government be invited to attend.

Which was adopted.

Mr. Schnebly proposed the following

RESOLUTION:

Resolved by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the Adjutant General, be and he is hereby directed to furnish to Captain Isaac Motter, of the "Washington Blues," sixty rifles and accoutrements, out of the State's quota for 1858, upon his giving the usual bond for their safe return when required by the State.

Which was read the first time, by special order the second time, and assented to by yeas and nays as follow:
