

(III) Individual water supply systems may be installed and used during an interim period, pending the availability of a programmed community water supply system. In Harford County, within the areas outlined in the county plan to receive a community water supply system within ten years, any new subdivisions approved after June 1, 1972, must have a county-approved water distribution system as a prerequisite for the issuance of building and zoning permits.

(IV) Individual water supply systems may be installed and used for an indefinite period. In Harford County, within the areas outlined in the county plan to receive a community water supply system within ten years, any new subdivisions approved after June 1, 1972, must have a county-approved water distribution system as a prerequisite for the issuance of building and zoning permits.

(V) Community sewerage systems must be provided;

(VI) Multiuse sewerage systems may be installed;

(VII) Individual sewerage systems may be installed and used during an interim period, pending availability of a programmed community sewerage system. In Harford County, within the areas outlined in the county plan to receive community sewerage system within ten years, any new subdivisions approved after June 1, 1972, must have a county-approved sewerage collection system as a prerequisite for the issuance of building and zoning permits. In Montgomery and Prince George's counties the comprehensive water and sewerage plan may permit individual sewerage systems to be installed and used during an interim period, pending the availability of sewerage transmission and treatment capacity necessary to provide adequate community sewerage service, for properties which otherwise would be in an area where community sewerage systems are required but where access to such community systems is prohibited by an order of the Department, Montgomery County, Prince George's County, or the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission.

(VIII) Individual sewerage systems may be installed and used for an indefinite period. In Harford County, within the areas outlined in the county plan to receive community sewerage system within ten years, any new subdivisions approved after June 1, 1972, must have a county-approved sewerage collection system as a prerequisite for the issuance of building and zoning permits.

(IX) Community solid waste disposal systems must be provided.