

is of great importance and interest to our people. Under its provisions an election is to take place in this city on the fourth Wednesday in October next, and on the same day every four years thereafter, for a mayor, whose term shall commence on the first Monday in the succeeding November, and continue for four years, or until his successor shall be qualified. Members of both branches of the City Council are to be chosen at the same time also, in 1867, and thereafter, for the First Branch each year, and for the Second Branch every second year, their sessions to commence on the third Monday of January and not to continue more than ninety days, exclusive of Sundays. It is provided in the judiciary article that the election for the Baltimore city judges, including the judge of the Court of Appeals, shall take place at the same time of the municipal election instead of at the time of the general elections in November.

The constitution was submitted to the people on September 18, 1867, and adopted by the following vote:
