THE PRESIDENT: The Report of the Committee of the Whole No. 10 has heretofore been referred to the Committee on Style, Drafting and Arrangement.

Are there any other motions or resolutions?

Delegate Pullen.

DELEGATE PULLEN: I should appreciate it if the Convention would join with me in welcoming tonight in the gallery my friend and associate of twenty-five years, Mr. James L. Reid, Director of Vocational Education, State Department of Education, and Mrs. Reid, of Catonsville; Mr. and Mrs. Stone of York, Pennsylvania; and Mrs. Kiefer. Mrs. Stone is a sister of Delegate Kiefer and the sister-in-law of Mrs. Kiefer; and Mr. Samuel Hopkins.

Mr. Stone and Mr. Hopkins are former pupils of mine. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Mitchell.

DELEGATE MITCHELL: Mr. President and fellow delegates, I would like to acknowledge the presence in the gallery over the podium of Mrs. Ruth Haines, field representative of the United Packing House and Food Allied Workers, who is a member appointed by Governor Tawes of the Labor Industry Committee of this State, and who serves on the Executive Board of Baltimore's Joint Council of AFL-CIO; and with her is Mrs. Sally Royster of the Packing House Workers, and Mrs. Bessie McCullough, who is field organizer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, a member of the AFL-CIO Joint Council.

THE PRESIDENT: Delighted to have you. (Applause.)

Delegate Churchill Murray.

DELEGATE E. C. MURRAY: Mr. President, I should like to ask my fellow delegates to join me in welcoming the wife of a delegate. He has gone suddenly shy, but the wife of Delegate Fornos is in the gallery, and has been here repeatedly.

THE PRESIDENT: We are delighted to have Mrs. Fornos with us. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Gallagher.

DELEGATE GALLAGHER: Mr. Chairman, if this were not a non-partisan Convention, I would announce to the body tonight that the members of the minority party left here this evening to attend an evening of spiritual rejuvenation, that they left as the minority party, but they have returned feeling as if they were the majority party. (Applause.)

THE CHAIRMAN: Delegate Price.

DELEGATE PRICE: I again do not want to be anticlimatical, but the lovely lady who is my wife is seated in the balcony and I would like for you to welcome her tonight too. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Weidemyer.

DELEGATE WEIDEMEYER: Mr. President and members of the Convention, I would like to welcome to the Convention and to the gallery two fine secretaries, Miss Klemsen and Mrs. Peters; I know not what their political affiliations are, but I can say this, that they are loyal to our Committee. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Fornos.

DELEGATE FORNOS: Anticlimatical perhaps, but we have the hero of Annapolis with us, the Superintendent of the Naval Academy, the Admiral and Mrs. Kauffman. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: On behalf of Admiral Kauffman the Chair desires to deliver to you this report, which is not the Chair's report, but his report: recognizing the subservience of the military to the civil authorities, he and the midshipmen of the United States Naval Academy carried out the orders of this Convention on last Saturday. (Applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: Delegate Chabot.

DELEGATE CHABOT: A point of information, Mr. Chairman. At that time were we granting them a power or imposing upon them a duty? (Laughter.)

THE PRESIDENT: In a non-partisan manner, we were imposing upon them a duty.

Are there any other announcements?

Delegate Kiefer.

DELEGATE KIEFER: I cannot let this occasion go by without expressing the
