The Maryland School for the Deaf was established in 1868 as a free public residential school for deaf and hard-of-hearing children who reside in the State. The Governor appoints the 30 members of the Board of Visitors for indefinite terms (Acts 1867, chap. 247; 1868, chap. 409; 1880, chap. 19; 1916, chap. 76; 1957, chap. 143 as amended). The school offers an academic education similar to that of public schools and in addition provides thorough instruction in speech reading, speech, auditory training, and use of individual hearing aids. It offers vocational training to boys in industrial arts, printing and wood-working, and gives training in homemaking courses to girls. Extra-curricular activities in athletics, scouts, social activities, and clubs are planned for all students. Vocational rehabilitation services are available to all graduates who seek jobs, special vocational training, or higher education. The enrollment for 1963-64 was 250.

The Maryland Workshop for the Blind is a State-aided institution established by the General Assembly by Chapter 566, Acts of 1908. Control is vested in a board of five trustees; three are appointed by the Governor, with Senate approval, and two are elected by the Board of Directors of the Maryland School for the Blind.

The Workshop operates through divisions. The Industrial Division manufactures sterile wrappers and surgical drapes for use in hospital operating rooms; mailing bags and mops; canes and repairs chairs, sub-contract work—assembly, packing, packaging and product manufacturing. The Home Service Division provides teaching for the blind in their homes and aids them in their personal adjustment to blindness. The Vending Stand Division licenses, establishes, and operates vending stands in many of the public buildings of the State. The
