

Acts of 1978, made it an unlawful housing practice to refuse to consider both incomes of husband and wife who seek to buy or lease a dwelling; to refuse to consider alimony or child support as a valid source of income; and to request information about birth control devices in evaluating any prospective buyer or lessee of a dwelling.

Efforts in Fair Employment Practices are supplemented by a deferral relationship and funding as provided by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. An annual report is submitted to the Governor and the General Assembly as required by Article 49B.

The Injured Workers' Rehabilitation Committee, created by Chapter 111, Acts of 1960, consists of six members appointed by the Governor to advise the Workmen's Compensation Commission on all phases of the rehabilitation of injured workers, including those whose claims are ultimately denied or those who are held not to be in the coverage of the laws relating to Workmen's Compensation. The Committee consists of the Chairperson of the Workmen's Compensation Commission and the Assistant State Superintendent of Vocational Rehabilitation, both of whom serve as ex officio members, and one employee, one employer, a representative of a casualty insurance company, and a registered physician. The Governor designates the Chairperson, and the Committee members serve for six-year terms (Code Education Article, secs. 21-305, 21-306).

JUDICIAL COMPENSATION COMMISSION

Not yet appointed.

Created by Chapter 717, Acts of 1980, the Judicial Compensation Commission is responsible for studying and making recommendations with respect to all aspects of judicial compensation so as to ensure that the judicial compensation structure is adequate to attract highly-qualified persons to the Bench and to enable judges to continue to serve there without unreasonable economic hardship. The Commission consists of seven members appointed by the Governor for six-year terms. No more than three members may be individuals admitted to practice law in the State. In nominating and appointing members, special consideration is given to individuals who have a knowledge of compensation practices and financial matters. Two members are appointed from a list of at least five nominees submitted by the President of the Senate, two members are appointed from a list of at least five nominees submitted by the Speaker of the House of Delegates, one member is appointed from a list of at least three nominees submitted by the Maryland State Bar Association, Inc., and two members are appointed at large. Members elect their own chairperson, and they serve without compensation.

The Commission is to make written recommendations concerning judicial salaries and pensions to the Governor and General Assembly not later than November 1, 1980, and the Governor is to include in his budget for the next fiscal year funding sufficient to implement those recommendations. Beginning in 1982 and every two years thereafter, the Commission is to review the salaries and pensions of judges, and at least every four years from 1980 the Commission must submit its recommendations to the Governor and General Assembly. The salary recommendations made by the Commission are to be introduced as a joint resolution in each house of the General Assembly not later than the fifteenth day of the session after they have been received. The General Assembly may not amend the joint resolution to increase the recommended salaries, and if it fails to adopt or amend the joint resolution within fifty days after its introduction the salaries recommended by the Commission shall apply. Commission recommendations with respect to pensions shall be introduced by the presiding officers of the Senate and the House of Delegates in the form of legislation, and shall become effective only if passed by both houses.
