ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE.

1. An administrator pendente lite is entitled and bound to collect the effects of the deceased; he may sue for debts due the deceased, and bring ejectment for leasehold estate even against the heir or next of kin; and his powers, except as to the authority to sell the goods of the deceased, are co-extensive with those of the general administrator. In re Rachel Colvin, a lunatic, 278.
2. It has been the usual practice for administrators pendente lite to give bonds, and there is no doubt of the legal validity of such bonds. Ib.

ALIMONY.

1. Under the Act of 1841, ch. 262, and its supplements, alimony is an incident to the power of granting divorces, and cannot be awarded to the wife except as a consequence of the exercise of such power. Dunnoch vs. Dunnoch, 140.
3. But the Act of 1777, ch. 12, sec. 14, giving the Chancellor as full authority in cases of alimony as the Ecclesiastical Courts have in England, is not repealed by the Act of 1841, ch. 262. Ib.
