

the second on the fourth Monday of July, and the third on the second Monday of November in each year; and to March and November terms only shall there be juries summoned and returned.

2. No trial of facts by jury shall take place at the July term of said court, but all civil process issuing out of said court shall be returned thereto at the said July term as to other regular terms; and the judge of said court shall open and hold said July term for the rendition of judgments in undisputed cases, and for receiving motions and making rules and orders, and hearing demurrers and all questions of law or other matters, or questions that may be tried without jury.

3. The clerk of the said Circuit Court, upon the close of the March term, shall make up but one trial docket of civil causes to the ensuing July and November terms, and not separate trial dockets to each of said terms, and to which said trial docket shall be transferred such cases from the appearance docket of the July term as may properly belong to the trial docket of the ensuing November term of said court; and there shall be no criminal dockets made up to said July term, nor any criminal process issued or made returnable thereto, but to the March and Novembers' only.

4. There shall be annually six regular equity or chancery terms of said Circuit Court, the first of which shall commence on the first Monday of February, the second on the first Monday of March, (that being also the commencement of the common law March term of said court,) the third on the first Monday of June, the fourth on the fourth Monday of July, (that also being the commencement of the common law July term of said court,) the fifth on the first Monday of October, and the sixth on the second Monday of November, (that being also the commencement of the common law November term of said court,) and to which said equity or chancery terms of said court all equity process shall be made returnable respectively; and the said Circuit Court, as a court of equity, shall be considered as always open for the transaction of business therein.
