

The Marvellous Magazine. — Non Fabula Mendax. Wonders! Wonders!! Wonders!!! A Collection of Queer, Astonishing, Out-of-the-way and Wonderful Tales, Narratives, &c. &c. Baltimore, Printed, and Published by Martin & Pratt, No. 182, Market st. 1804. (Price 12 1/2 cents.)

4 nos. 18.5 cm. Each number A-C<sup>6</sup>.

Apparently issued monthly.

Description above taken chiefly from original cover of no. 3, Mar. 10, 1804 (MdHi).

The text of sig. B in no. 2 bears no relation to the signatures on either side.

MdBE (no. 1-3; without t.p. Possibly second edition; see below); MdHi (without t.p.; p. 27-36 mutilated in no. 4. Following no. 3 is inserted a section (sig. A12 (-A1) B-C12) consisting of "The Adventures of Joseph Pignata" (p. [3]-48) and "The Persecution of Don Pablo Olavide" (p. 49-72), which may indicate that the MdHi copy is really a second edition; cf. item 456, Keatinge's Cabinet of Entertainment, or Marvellous Magazine. The MdHi copy of no. 3 in original covers is the only sure 1804 issue.)

[924]

Moonshine. By the Lunarian Society. June 20-July 23, 1807. Baltimore: Published by Samuel Jefferis, No. 212, Market-street.

5 nos. 19 cm. weekly.

Price 12 1/2 cents.

Referred to in the final issue of the Observer (Dec. 26, 1807), v. 2, p. 422, as "the panegyrists you [readers] possess in ... the Spectacles, and Moonshine, on the creamy rays of which your honors cannot but thrive and fatten;" and in the Baltimore Repertory, v. 1, no. 1 (Jan. 1811), p. 5, as "the rays of Moonshine were speedily extinguished."

DLC; MB; MBAT; MWA (no.1 only); MdHi; M1D-B (no.1 only); NNS.

[925]

The Musical Journal for the Piano-forte. Baltimore, J. Carr; New York, J. Hewitt; Philadelphia, J. Chalk. 5 v. 33 cm. weekly.

Issued from January 1800 into 1803; edited by Benjamin Carr.

Minick 613.

All known copies incomplete.

CtY; DLC; MdBE; NN; PVC; RPJCB.

[926]