

shall, at the same time, fix the compensation to be paid to laborers on the public roads; it shall be the duty of the general supervisor, and he is hereby required to ride over the public roads of each district, at least once a month during the season in which they are to be worked, and to advise with and direct, as far as practicable, how, when and where the said district supervisors shall work said roads; the said district road supervisors shall be subject to the advice of the general supervisor, have exclusive control over all their laborers, teams, tools and machinery during the time they are at work on said roads; and each district road supervisor is authorized to employ not more than six laborers; and in no case shall any such supervisor employ less than three when at work on said roads, during the time limited for working on said roads; each district supervisor shall keep an account of all the material purchased, the number of days of labor performed by himself and by each laborer hired by him, with other expenses authorized by this sub-title of this article, which may be thus incurred, and shall once in each month render such account to the general supervisor, whose duty it shall be report the same monthly to the County Commissioners, who shall draw their warrant on the collectors for the same when cash available therefor is not at hand; work on said roads shall not commence before the first day of May and shall end on the first day of November; but nothing in this act shall authorize any supervisor to do any work in any year after he has exhausted the amount apportioned to his district; and it shall be the duty of the general road supervisor to notify the district supervisors whenever the amounts apportioned to their respective district shall be exhausted; but nothing in this act shall prohibit any supervisor from cutting and removing any trees which shall have fallen across said road so as to obstruct travel, nor to repair of any bridge or washout at any time, if the public convenience requires it; but whenever they have cash available, then all road accounts shall be paid in cash, and it is hereby made the duty of the clerk or treasurer of the Board of County Commissioners to immediately after the adjustment of said accounts, pay over to the general supervisor the amount due each district supervisor, laborer or other persons, for materials, teams or implements for the preceding months; and the said general supervisor shall therefor immediately pay to the persons entitled to receive the same, the amounts due them in the same manner in which he has received the same, whether in cash or in script, before proceeding to perform the duties of his office; the said general supervisor shall give a bond to said