

the general annual meeting of the stockholders and of the election of the directors of the same as above referred to. *CHAP. 554.

SEC. 5. And be it enacted, That the directors shall have power to declare such dividends out of the profits of said company as they may deem proper; provided, that no dividends shall be declared when the capital stock shall be imperiled thereby. The directors shall also have power to require payment from each and every stockholder of the amounts remaining unpaid on the stock of the company held by such stockholders at such times as they may think proper. Dividends declared.

SEC. 6. And be it enacted, That the said company shall have and enjoy all the general powers, provisions and privileges, and be subject to the general regulations contained in Article 23 of the Code of Public General Laws of Maryland, the said Article known also as the Article providing for the formation, powers and regulation of corporations so far as the same may not be inconsistent or in conflict with the special or general regulations or provisions, powers, privileges, rights and advantages conferred or intended to be conferred by this Act. Certain privileges granted.

SEC. 7. And be it enacted, That the corporation hereby formed shall have power and it is hereby authorized to hold and conduct from time to time an exposition or expositions of arts, industries, manufactures and the products of the forest, mines and seas, to fix admission fees and dispose of privileges of every character upon its grounds, to establish and maintain hotels, restaurants, amusements and entertainments, which the board of directors may deem proper; to lay tracks, run cars and establish an electric lighting plant upon its grounds for the purpose of supplying its own needs, and to allot space for exhibits, prepare a classification of exhibits, determine the plans and scope of the exhibition or exhibitions, and appoint judges and examiners therefor, and award premiums, if any. Authority to hold and conduct an exposition, etc.

SEC. 8. And be it enacted, That the president and directors of the said corporation, or a majority of them, shall have power to make and adopt, alter and amend such by-laws, rules and regulations for the direction and management of said company as may be in their judgment from time to time necessary for the purposes of said corporation; provided, they are not inconsistent with the laws of the land and the provisions of the charter; and they shall have power to employ all such agents and servants as in their judgment may be necessary to carry into effect the objects for which this corporation is formed. May make laws and alter or amend by-laws, etc.