

WHEREAS, There frequently seem to be instances in which, by reason of duplication of signs or ambiguity of language, these signs create confusion in the minds of motorists; and

WHEREAS, It also seems probable that the attractiveness of many of these signs could be improved, thereby making them as little a detraction as possible from the beauty of the roadside; and

WHEREAS, There also seem to be instances in which directional and warning signs near intersections or curves may constitute a traffic hazard because of obstructing the vision of motorists; therefore be it

Resolved by the General Assembly of Maryland, That the State Roads Commission be directed immediately to study and investigate its system of directional and warning signs, in order to improve the sightliness of the signs, to eliminate duplicating signs, to clarify the directions or warning contained thereon and also to change the location of any signs which may obstruct vision; and be it further

Resolved, That the State Roads Commission be requested to put into effect, as promptly as possible, an improved system of directional and warning signs on the highways of Maryland.

No. 3

(Senate Joint Resolution 3)

Senate Joint Resolution requesting the establishment of a study commission on city-county fiscal relationships.

WHEREAS, The General Assembly of Maryland notes that over the years there have been many studies of fiscal relationships in this State but none of fiscal relationships directly between the city and county governments. These are very important areas of government in Maryland with unsolved problems. Because these levels of government
