NOTE

There was one bill vetoed by the Governor of Maryland following the Special Session of November 6, 1964. It was House Bill 1.

This bill was a duplicate of Senate Bill 1, to eliminate the proposed increase in the income tax rate and to appropriate from general funds the monies needed to meet the school budget for fiscal 1965.

Section 17 of Article 2 of the Constitution of Maryland provides that bills vetoed by the Governor must be returned to the next meeting of the General Assembly, where they become the first order of business.
